

ET NETERA a.s. Company Press Release

New ET NETERA's website won "The Best IT Company Website" award

Prague, October 16, 2008 – ET NETERA, a leading Czech e-business solution supplier, won "The Best IT company website" award in the category IT Services, B2B Section. The first year of the best company website competition was organized by CPress Media.

The websites were judged by a jury consisting of experts and representatives of CPress Media magazines - Connect!, BIZ, Computer Design and Computer/Živě. Ondřej Čihař, the Et netera marketing manager, took the award at the CPress show on the Invex trade fair.

Awards were granted in following categories:

- IT services, B2B section (winner www.etnetera.cz)
- IT products production and distribution, B2B section (winner www.twist-erp.cz)
- IT services, B2C section (winner www.onebit.cz)
- IT products production and distribution, B2C section (winner www.avg.cz)
- readers' prize (winner www.cadforum.cz)

The new Et netera website was launched only few months ago. "We have built the whole website in a slightly different way. Above all we have decided to give much more space to current news, piquancies from our company's life and to specialized contributions which enable the insight in our development kitchen. We would like to attract not only potential clients and employees but also professional public," says Ondřej Čihař, the Et netera marketing manager.

This award is the third one for Et netera this year. The previous were:

- IT product of the Year 2008 for the Content Management System jNetPublish,
- The Stevie Award for the unique project www.offlineblog.cz.
